1/31/66 Russia's press conf. following Pres's speech.

He who pleases everyone, pleases no one. He refers to the "government of Vietnam", not the government in the provincial government of South Vietnam. Also he refers to the established government of North Vietnam as "Hanoi", as he did to the government of China as "Peiping". Among the most obvious contradictions of his day's remarks is the future existence that our puppet representatives in Saigon claim political control over the entire land.
